

On Saturday, September 30th, UNCF Los Angeles hosted the 34th Walk for Education in historic Leimert Park. Thank you to all of you who attended, volunteered, vendored, and raised money, in support of the nearly 65,000 students UNCF serves.

We kicked off the day with a special performance by the youth of the Fernando Pullam Community Arts Center and our friends at KJLH and our amazing emcee Adai Lamar got the party started in style. Mo' Fit got our blood pumping with what turned out to be an early morning warm-up/dance party!

Great thanks to our sponsors, SoCal Gas and Superior Grocers, Xerox, and the UNCF Los Angeles Inter-Alumni Council who made our event possible.

Thank you to our top corporate teams City National Bank and SoCal Gas and our top community teams, the Beverly Hills Links and Alpha Kappa Alpha (AGO Chapter) who led the charge this year.

A special thanks to our biggest individual fundraiser Trisha Jones-Brooks who pulled out all the stops to raise nearly $1,000 for the cause.

We thank the elected officials who represented and challenged us all to do more, fight harder, and continue making an impact. Thanks to Assemblyman Reggie Jones- Sawyer, Assemblyman Chris Holden on behalf of the California Legislative Black Caucus, State Senator Steve Bradford, and Brent Robinson on behalf of US Senator Kamala Harris.

In particular, we thank State Senator Steve Bradford who pledged $1,000 on the spot and encouraged his colleagues to join him.

Finally, thank you to the community of Leimert Park for welcoming us so warmly.

Thank you all for a wonderful day in celebration of service, leadership, and education. Until the next one...THANK YOU!
